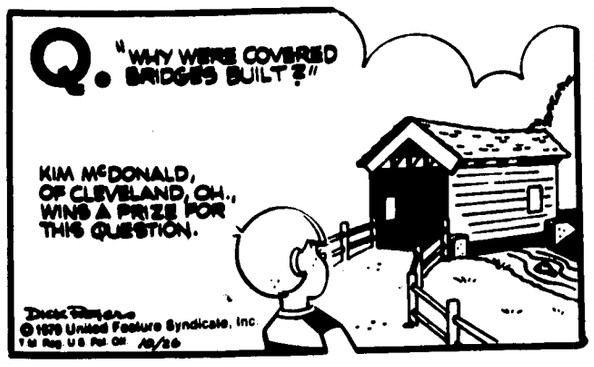
THE INCREDIBLE HULK

JOHNNY WONDER



A. Covered bridges were once common in the United States. A few remain. They look like wooden tunnels, and were built during the days of the horse and buggy. Some people think that the bridges were covered so that the horses would not be frightened while crossing the bridge. Actually, the roof and sides sheltered the bridge from snow and rain and protected the wood in the bridge from rotting. You can find covered bridges still standing in Vermont and several other states. Covered wooden bridges are no longer being built. Most bridges are now made of concrete or steel.

You can win a World Almanac if your question is selected. Send your name and age to JOHNNY WONDER, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1258, Santa Cruz, CA 95061.
